MANAGER’S REPORT

This report will cover the twelve months from April 2013 - March 2014 and as you will see from the work reports it proved to be another busy year for Greater Shankill Alternatives. Staff have again excelled themselves and I feel privileged to be part of a team who give so much of themselves to help make Alternatives the innovative and professional organisation it has become. Staff training and development is a key responsibility for me as manager. As an organisation we have supported all staff to engage in training that will enhance their individual development and professional practice as workers. Courses have included masters in counselling, Level 7 in Assessing & Teaching People with Specific Learning difficulties (dyslexia), Youth Work degree, diploma in Restorative Practices, ONC level 3 in Mediation as well as a wide variety of other related courses. We also encourage our volunteers to participated in accredited training and have provided a number of youth work placements for University students. As well as giving attention to staff training it is essential to support staff in the very challenging work that they carry out. Together we have formalised a care plan that has taken on board the diversity of staff needs and offered a range of support measures such as staff reviews, regular team meetings, practitioners forum and alternative therapies as well as staff socials

Within the reporting period Alternatives have developed new innovative projects as well as continuing to provide our existing services some of which are unique and working with the most challenging and difficult issues in the community. Alternatives have been the led agency in our new WAYS project consortium with Challenge For Youth and CRJ to deliver support services to young people and families across both Loyalist & Republican communities in Belfast. We have also built on our relationships with the Northern Ireland Prison Service to provide restorative practices to prisoners incarcerated with Hydebank, Magilligan and Maghabery prisons.

Although not a conventional youth project Alternatives have continued to deliver a range of innovative youth prevention programmes. From detached street work, school based projects, visual arts, and outdoor pursuits and residential we have engaged over hundreds of young people from different communities and religious backgrounds. We have explored issues of community relations, identity, life skills, violence, ASB, and personal development and examples of this work can be found in this report.

At present, Alternatives work with all the main statutory agencies and have formal partnerships and service agreements to provide a number of key services. Alternatives partnerships include our MACS project with Housing Executive to support vulnerable residents and victims of anti-social behaviour, RAPs project in partnership with the Probation Board to provide support and victim awareness work with adult adjudicated offenders. Alternatives provides Youth & family support with Social Services to work intensively with some of the most challenging young people and difficult to reach families. Alternatives also work on a daily basis with a variety of stats including schools, Belfast City Council, and Youth Justice Agency.

As well as delivering services I have worked hard at developing a platform to promote our work and services through social media and our online presence. Alternatives have now a website linked to all the main social media links that all sites regularly update. Our Facebook page has over 2300 followers and we have almost 1000 followers on Twitter and regularly post videos related to our work on youtube.

As well as co-working with all staff in the delivery of services I have been active in a range of strategic committees and initiatives. These include chair of the Greater Shankill Community Safety Network, Board of Directors of Shankill Partnership, Board of Governors Wheatfield Primary, Woodvale Park Development Group, Neighbourhood Renewal Partnership, Full Service & Extended Schools Steering Group and. Involvement in these initiatives gives Alternatives a Big Picture perspective, and gives us strategic input into affecting positive community change in the Greater Shankill community and beyond.
INTENSIVE YOUTH SUPPORT

Between April 2013 and March 2014, Shankill Alternatives worked with 16 young men who were referred to the Intensive Youth Support programme (IYS). Out of the 16 the youngest was 13 and the eldest was 27 giving an average age of 16. Below is a breakdown of offences/issues and referral sources;

Although there were 16 young people on the IYS programme it is now common that young people are referred with a number of issues, hence there are 12 issues above.

Time Spent

The shortest time spent on the programme was 6 days and the longest was 61 weeks and 5 days, on average young people spend 22 weeks on the Intensive Youth Support programme. The issues we have dealt with are as follows: riotous behaviours including throwing missiles and petrol bombs, implementing youth justice conference plans and community service hours, general anti-social, anti-community and nuisance behaviours, working alongside local schools to provide support and reintegrating young people back into school after long absences, and theft and vandalism in the community. Two young men are recorded as being specifically referred for misusing drugs, however it is common that the majority of young people coming on to the IYS programme have or are misusing substances coupled with anti-social and anti-community behaviour in some way. Finally, over the course of the year and dealing with some serious issues in the family home, we have engaged a number of parents with family support and counselling sessions where necessary.

Contacts

Regarding face to face contacts with IYS young people, there were a total of 352 which averaged out at 7 face to face contacts a week. This face to face engagement was supported by liaising with agencies and family resulting in 1,983 contacts over the year or an average of 38 contacts per week. The main difficulty with IYS face to face engagements is that it can take a lot of work to get just one face to face session completed with some of the more challenging young people on the programme.

Restitution

Over the annual period there were 68 volunteer hours completed by young people referred by the Youth Justice Agency and 6 restorative conference plans completed. However we had one male who completed 23 hours in relation to a community offence. This concluded the year with 91 hours given back in reparation to the Greater Shankill community for harm caused. 12 letters of apology were completed and delivered, as well as participation in 5 restorative youth justice conferences and the facilitation of a community mediation. Two young males were supported through sentences in Woodlands Juvenile Justice Centre.
Agencies worked with
Agencies worked with include Social Services (Shankill and the Carlisle centre), Youth Justice Agency including the Conference Service, Boys Model School, Loughshore School, PBNI, NIFRS, a wide range of care homes in the Greater Belfast area such as Glenmona Resource Centre and College Park Avenue, Community Sheltered Dwelling. BELBs Education Welfare, Job Assist Centre Shankill, YOC Woodlands, VOYPIC, East Belfast Alternatives, Flax Foyer, Belfast Activity Centre, Fernhill House, Shankill Opticians, Children’s Law Centre and local solicitors to name but a few.

Positive Outcomes
• Young people supported in care, in crisis and in young offender centres
• 91 community volunteer hours completed
• Youth Conference plans completed
• One young male completed a 12 week course with the NIFRS, 6 accredited qualifications obtained
• Young people engaging and supported in substance misuse agencies
• Family relationships improved
• Family support in times of crisis
• Housing sourced outside of Belfast
• One young male successfully reintegrated into education after a long period of absence
• Mental health support sourced
• 4 males accepted onto the LIFE scheme with the NIFRS
YOUTH PREVENTION PROJECTS

Unit (2013/2014 school term) (93yp)
The Boys Model Pupil Support Unit (PSU) allows twice weekly engagement with young men who have got into trouble in school for a wide range of issues. Some of these issues include fighting, truancy, threatening teachers, verbal abuse, bullying, throwing in class and missing detention. From March 2013 to April 2014 work around anti-social behaviour, self-awareness and victim-awareness was completed with 93 pupils over 71 sessions. Pupils who are regularly in the PSU are offered further support.

Environmental Project (8YP)
In February 2014 we teamed up with Belfast Activity Centre (BAC) and engaged in some outdoor environmental work in their residential center. We cleaned paths and removed debris from the area of the centre and surrounding areas. This was an all day job and we hope to continue down there with the BAC. The East Belfast office joined us in these efforts.

Riot Research Group (6YP)
A group of 6 young people involved in or at risk of becoming involved in rioting met for 5 weeks in Jan /Feb. A clean-up of graffiti hotspots in the local area was completed as well as sessions around personal identity and culture.

L.I.F.E. Scheme (1YP)
One young male graduated on the 14th of February from the L.I.F.E. scheme. He completed a week long course and gained 5 small qualifications such as basic first aid and health & safety awareness.

Girls Model School (29YP)
Through the medium of the Greater Shankill Youth Workers Forum the youth support worker was invited into the Girls Model School careers class to complete a talk on ‘How to Become a Youth Worker’. There were 29 girls present and this will become a regular engagement.

Environmental Project (8YP)
In December 2013 six community service hours took place. This included work in two local parks and them being cleaned of graffiti and other mess. This was small scale but very effective, however we have some local lads also taking an interest in this work to improve their community. They are completing this free of charge and with no hidden agenda other than to help their community.

Pathways Alternative Education Group (15YP)
The Youth Support Worker and the Youth Safety Partnership Co-ordinator completed 3 sessions of anti-social behaviour awareness and concluded with a fourth session of mountain biking over at the Belfast Activity Centre. These sessions were a follow on to three sessions of cultural awareness. Both programmes were well received and an evaluation was carried out.

Twaddell Culture group (10YP)
In October, November and December the Twaddell Culture group engaged in a variety of themes. They took part in a Small Worlds programme meeting and discussing issues effecting ethnic minorities in the Spectrum Centre, Shankill Road. They engaged in a role play around the parades commission determinations and watched and discussed a video with Andy Allen, an ex-soldier who lost his legs in an IED strike in Afghanistan. We also met with a wide range of community and statuary representatives such as the PUP, UPRG, Orange Order, Pride of Ardoyne Flute Band representative, PSNI and the Police Ombudsman. All these session were facilitated by the Youth Support Worker and the MACS worker as the question were on a wide range of difficult but informative topics affecting young people in the local area. We concluded this group with a residential to Londonderry for further engagement and learning around diversity and culture.

Men Health Event (28YP)
In November the Youth Support Worker teamed up with three groups of young people from East, Shankill and Springmartin to engage in a Men’s Health day. The day included a football tournament on a new pitch in Springmartin and a cultural tour of the Woodvale and Shankill Road bomb sites. The day was concluded in the Shankill Leisure Centre where Surestart had a Men’s Health event which included shaves/haircuts, job opportunities, blood tests for diabetes/ cholesterol, massages and youth programmes to name just a few.
Mountain Biking (3YP)
Three IYS young men engaged in a Mountain bike programme in November were they achieved a level three qualification in mountain bike skills and proficiency. This was completed over two days in both Barnett’s Demesne and Casliewell mountain bike trails.

Greater Shankill Bonfire Project (258YP / 805 people on social media))
Over the period of both June and July 2013, 258 young people across 7 bonfire sites were engaged with in the run up to the 11th night. The bonfire safety project further engaged with over 805 people on our social media site and concluded with a photo competition where the winning photo received 133 likes. This project was a great success as on one of the evenings we made food on the bonfire sites and completed over 70 questionnaires in regards to culture and bonfire safety. We hope to bring this project into the schools as an awareness project.

Detached Work (300+YP)
During the course of the year, upwards of 300+ young people were engaged through detached/outreach work. These young people were mostly in the Woodvale Park and surrounding areas with detached sessions based around heightening awareness of anti-social/anti-community behaviours. Woodvale Park is a hotspot for these types of nuisance behaviours especially in the summer month.

Suicide Reference Group (SRG) (56YP)
May & August 2013 – opportunity for Youth Support Worker, Youth Safety Partnership and Gappers to work alongside FASA and contribute in the promotion of ‘World Suicide Prevention’ Day. Further to this, Alternatives manned a stand specifically to engage with young people and adults around the topic of suicide and self-harm prevention.

S.K.I.L.L.S. (Sharing Knowledge In Learning Life Skills) (12YP)
The S.K.I.L.L.S. project was designed to teach skills not usually taught in schools or colleges and included fixing a puncture on a car, ironing, wall papering, fixing plugs, basic cookery and confidence building team games. The project concluded with a trip to Londonderry and a tour of both the Fountain Estate and the Apprentice Boys Memorial Hall. Over the course of the week the young people were scored on a variety of tasks including attendance, time keeping, creativity, team work and personal progression with the winner receiving a course of driving lessons.

Primary Schools (211YP)
211 P.7 children in 6 primary schools across the Greater Shankill area completed a series of anti-social behaviour awareness sessions. They were engaged around local issues utilising both the CLIC DVD and the big snakes and ladder game to highlight the risks, consequences and dangers of getting involved in these negative behaviours.

SEBC (Shankill Estate Bonfire Crew) (9YP)
April 2013 – completion of 9 sessions including the CLIC DVD, anti-violence sessions and icebreakers as well as ‘getting to know you’ games up in Cave Hill Country Park. There was also an opportunity to link up with East Belfast Alternatives and play 5 a side football with another bonfire crew from over there.

Shankill Graveyard (8YP)
April/May 2013 - 8 young people completed 19 hours of reparation such as rubbish removal and gravestone cleaning in preparation the S.A.S.H. group’s history and culture programme on the 24th of June. This programme unveiled some of the great history behind the graveyard to a large audience.
MEDIATION AND COMMUNITY SUPPORT (M.A.C.S.) PROJECT

Mediation and Community Support (M.A.C.S.)
The Mediation and Community Support Programme (MACS) is a partnership arrangement between Northern Ireland Alternatives and the Housing Executive for the delivery of a mediation and community support programme primarily targeted at NIHE tenants experiencing forms of anti-social behaviour. The programme is funded by NIHE and Atlantic Philanthropies, and has completed its third successful year. The MACS programme is available in Greater Shankill, North Belfast (including Rathcoole) and North Down.

Summary of Services - April 2013 – March 2014
M.A.C.S. staff assisted in 51 cases, involving 215 beneficiaries, and made contact by phone, fax, letter, text or in person with or on behalf of local residents at least 1103 times.

Mediation cases involved - disagreements between neighbours, family disputes and the victim of burglary and the offender
Community support cases cover a wide range of issues with anti-social behaviour as the key element. During this time period the cases involved youth causing annoyance the age range of those participating in anti-social behaviour is ten/eleven years to mid twenty's.

Training completed:
Level 4 Diploma Restorative Practices (Skill for Justice)
Steps to Excellence (Shankill Womens Centre)
Media Training (E3)
SHANKILL YOUTH SAFETY PARTNERSHIP

Activities and training completed by YSP over and above the collaborative working with Greater Shankill Alternatives mentioned in the Youth Support Workers report above is as follows:

World Police and Fire Games – 6 YSP members applied for and were accepted to volunteer at this prestigious event

Community Conventions - stalls set up in Farset and BMC Millfield for Suicide Awareness and Community Relations week respectively

Practitioners Forum - YSP members attended Alternatives Practitioners Forum

Consultations - Researcher from USA (Jonathan Blake) doing research on Protestant culture
Polish student studying for PHD met the YSP to discuss their views around Riots and Interfaces

Environmental Clean-up: Environmental clean-up completed removing graffiti from the walls of people houses

Suicide - YSP met FASA around responses to suicide on Shankill

Murals - YSP were involved in putting up murals on Peace wall around the work of Alternatives

Conference - YSP members attended the Lagan Valley conference centre in Lisburn to meet community partners and look at future plans for work

YSP Activity Day - Trip to Todds Leap to take part in activities with the other partnerships from Northside, Craigavon, Londonderry, Divis, Coalisland and Armagh

Londonderry - 5 YSP members and Alternatives staff member gave talk on YSP and Alternatives to group of 15 young people and 3 adults from Bogside in Londonderry & Donegal

East Belfast - Visit to East Belfast Alternatives to meet workers from Street by Street to look at different approaches to detach youth work

WRAP AROUND YOUTH SUPPORT (W.A.Y.S.)

W.A.Y.S. is a consortium project that was funded for three years by the Big Lottery ‘Reaching Out – Empowering Young People’ fund. The three consortium members are Challenge For Youth, Community Restorative Justice Ireland and Northern Ireland Alternatives.

W.A.Y.S. offers a restorative based model of wrap around support and services for 13 – 17 year old young people most in need within Belfast. W.A.Y.S not only engages with young people but also engages with parents and siblings, offering a range of support services in order to encourage collective family change and problem solving.

The support services offered are personalised to the needs of the young person and their lifestyle, but the core interventions include:

- Reintegration of young people back into their communities.
- Relevant personal development programmes (usually lasting 8 – 12 weeks).
- Relevant education / training programmes (accredited and non-accredited).
- Time for Change (an intensive five day residential experience in a ‘wilderness setting’, followed by a number of supporting workshops, usually lasting around 8 weeks).
- Intensive Youth Support (working 1:1 with a young person to encourage them to address the harm caused by their behaviours) and mediation (usually lasting 4 - 9 months).
- Volunteering opportunities.
- Understanding Choices programme (12 sessions over 10 weeks).
- Youth mentoring.
- Providing access to a city centre drop in service / out of hours service.
- Outdoor / active learning.
- Family support and family group conferencing, to encourage collaborative family change.
- Linking with C.A.M.H.S. (Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service), D.A.M.H.S. (Drug and Alcohol Mental Health Service), and Family Therapy Service, all funded by B.H.S.C.T. (Belfast Health and Social Care Trust).
- Linking with the Youth Justice Agency and Social Services.

The process within W.A.Y.S. is a simple but effective one, with a restorative approach at the core of engagement. Most importantly it is interchangeable and allows for re-assessment and amalgamation of stages. The partnership working that W.A.Y.S. staff practice helps provide the young person and their families with valuable holistic wrap around support. The engagement process is malleable, but fundamentally uses a progressive method involving the assessment of needs, which determines targets and shapes action plans, all within a network of holistic support for the young person and their families.

Young people can be referred into the programme by anyone involved with them or their family. W.A.Y.S received referrals from family members, P.S.N.I., Social Services, Youth Justice Agency, community (individuals and other organisations) and schools between the period of June 2013 – March 2014. Young people can also refer themselves. Every young person that engages with W.A.Y.S. has different needs and has experienced varying degrees of positives and negatives in their lives. Therefore, each young person and their family receive individualised support, with some benefiting from multiple interventions.

![Breakdown of 1:1 engagement with young people in the W.A.Y.S. project.]

W.A.Y.S. also engages with groups of young people, who become involved through the same referral sources as our one-to-one young people. Similarly, each group is individual and so programmes offered are diverse. From June 2013 – March 2014 W.A.Y.S. completed two Time for Change programmes, two Understanding Choices programmes as well as twenty five additional group programmes (some of which were accredited, resulting in thirty four young people receiving a qualification through W.A.Y.S.). Through both our group and one-to-one interventions young people have the opportunity to ‘give something back’ to their community, family, school, and so on. This is done through volunteering opportunities. Between June 2013 and March 2014, W.A.Y.S. young people completed 1, 153 volunteer hours, through acting as helpers in community fun days and celebratory events, as workers in community clean-ups and graffiti removals and as young leaders in Summer camps. An under 18 apprenticeship minimum wage is £2.68, so if the volunteer hours were costed at £2.68 per hour W.A.Y.S. young people contributed £3, 090.04p to their community in monetary terms.

W.A.Y.S. staff travel the journey with our young people and their families, and this is reflected in the individual contacts that W.A.Y.S. staff make each month. Each staff member sees their young people on a one-to-one basis between two and four times a week, and groups once to twice a week. In addition to this each staff member has individual contacts with family, doctors, schools, and so on. The chart below shows the number of individual contacts that were made by W.A.Y.S. staff between June 2013 and March 2014. In total there was 3, 602 individual contacts made during this period, averaging at 400 per month.

![Number of individual contacts made by staff in the W.A.Y.S project]

Within the period of June 2013 – March 2014, W.A.Y.S. also developed a plan to establish a referral panel and youth advisory panel, which are to be implemented before June 2014.
RESTORATIVE ADULT PRACTICES PROGRAMME (RAPS)

RAPS is responsible for the oversight and delivery of restorative programmes to adult adjudicated offenders referred by the Probation Board of Northern Ireland.

Inspired by the philosophy and practices of restorative justice, the programme focuses on the reparation of harm done to relationships and people over and above the need for assigning blame and dispensing punishment. It offers the opportunity to explore the offence(s) committed, the harm caused and ways to work towards a better future in a setting which draws upon key values such as respect, inclusion, ownership, non-judgemental and empowerment to both victim and offender where possible.

This can be done in a number of ways including:

- Victim/Offender Mediation
- Victim Awareness
- Offender Support &
- Community Reparation

Throughout the process intensive support is given to referrals to assist them in developing a plan to address the needs of the people they have hurt including their victims, their community and themselves in order to make positive changes in their lives.

The RAPS programme takes referrals from the following Probation teams:

North Belfast/South Antrim (covering the Greater Shankill Area), North Antrim & Inspire (which is a Probation specific project for women offenders)

For the year April 13 – March 14, referrals were made for the following offences:-
